TASTING NOTES

- Colour: Deep maroon.
- Aroma: On the nose, ripe red berry fruit aromas come to the fore enhanced by more complex characters coming from the oak ageing.
- Taste: Fresh and silky on the palate with good volume and excellent structure.
- Food: Serrano-ham-based tapas, fatty fish such as salmon, or grilled pork chops.

AWARDS & ACCOLADES

2015 ~ 91 Points. "Beautiful and delicate nose showing fresh mangoes and hints of cream. Full-bodied with a candied-fruit, watermelon and apple character. Drink now." - Jamessuckling.com, Thursday, December 1, 2016

2013 ~ 90 Points. "They reduced the amount of oak for the 2013 Losada, trying to show more the Mencia character in the wine. The nose denotes more freshness, it doesn't seem as concentrated as in previous vintages, and the palate also shows better balance. I like the direction this cuvee is going within the house style. There were 92,428 bottles and 300 magnums produced." - Robert Parker's the Wine Advocate #224, Apr 2016

2014 ~ 90 Points. "This wine's ripe berry aromas are tinged with schisty minerality while showing restrained oaky scents of coconut and vanilla. It's saturated, firm palate features big tannins, tomato, plum, baking spice and coffee flavors and a dark, toasty finish." - Michael Schachner, Wine Enthusiast, Aug 2017

OTHER INFO

Mencia grapes are selected from vineyards located in different areas of Bierzo where careful vine-growing, the right altitude and good exposure enable perfect ripening of the grapes. The vineyards are planted in different soil-types, most of which are either made up of fragmented slate (such as in Campo and Molinaseca) or clay (as in Valtuille and Villadecanes).
